"The roundtable has been a great company decision not only to help improve our company through stats, data and information but also is a great way to know other building material leaders. The leaders I have met through the roundtable have had a huge influence on how we do business now. I was skeptical the first roundtable I attended but was blown away with all the information I was given to help improve our company. The roundtable has now become a yearly spot check and improvement to better our company and our customers."
